Proficiency Levels

RMOLSM provides student results using distinct proficiency levels for each dimension of reading. Decoding Accuracy proficiency levels include Frustration, Instructional, and Independent. Decoding Rate proficiency levels include Needs Improvement, Competent, and Advanced. Expression proficiency levels include Needs Improvement and Competent. Comprehension proficiency levels include Needs Improvement, Competent, and Advanced. Each assessment is designed to be administered to a student in a particular part of the academic year (i.e., Fall, Winter, Spring) at the recommended grade level. A variety of other scores and diagnostic reports are also available.

Bulk Purchase

An RMOLSM Online bulk purchase includes of a full academic year License providing for a specified number of students within a school or district. Licensees have the option of administering multiple assessments to students during the period of the license, such as for charting progress within a school year or tracking changes in diagnostic reports. Purchase of a License with a larger number of student accounts results in a lower per student price. The cost includes all RMOLSM tests and applicable Materials, Orientation and Support, depending on the size of the purchase. Up to 10% of any unused student accounts may be rolled over into the following academic year. Student accounts are considered “used” when a student name is entered or uploaded into the system. Student accounts cannot be shared by multiple students; only one student may be tested using a student account.

Additional Orientation/Training/Support

Beyond the training and support included with bulk purchases, additional training and support may be purchased in hourly increments:

Additional orientation/training: $150/hour.

Additional tech support: $65/hour.

On-site training: $2,000/day.
